On the 8th of February we started to learn about cubism art. Cubism was invented in the early 1900s by Pablo Picasso and another artist named Georges Braque.

It is a type of “abstract” art. The word abstract means “to take out” or another meaning was an art style that uses basic lines and shapes.

In our cubist art, we drew our faces from two angles then merged them together in interesting ways to create the cubist abstract look. We glued cardboard strips around them.

They are then painted, in different contrasting.

Next we are doing this with chairs and looking at perspective!

Be Funky is a website that lets you change your photos in interesting ways.

We had to upload a photo of ourselves. Then we changed the background with Photo Effects called Patriotic, Cartoonizer and Watercolour. You can add cool little goodies (if we wanted to) like speech bubbles, accessories, graphics and lot's of objects that you can add to your There are frames to choose from. Have a go!
